2026 Grand Marshals - Ray and Kelly Jacklin

Ray and Kelly Jacklin will be honored as this year’s Grand Marshals of the Lehi Round-Up Rodeo. Ray served 23 years on the rodeo committee, and together the couple has built a life centered on family, work and horses.

When the gate swings open and the dust begins to rise at the Lehi Round-Up Rodeo, few will have earned that moment quite like Ray and Kelly Jacklin. The longtime rodeo supporters have been named Grand Marshals for the 2026 Lehi Round-Up Rodeo, honoring decades of dedication and a deep-rooted love of the Western way of life.

For 23 years, Ray Jacklin served on the rodeo committee, doing much of the behind-the-scenes work that kept the grounds ready for events. Before modern arena footing, that meant breaking up hard-packed dirt, harrowing it smooth and making it safe for riders and livestock. “There was always something going on,” Ray said. The grounds hosted 4-H events, barrel racing, pony shows and high school rodeo, making arena maintenance a constant job. Many nights, Ray’s children worked alongside him, learning to operate equipment and care for the land. One daughter later won an FFA tractor-driving competition using skills she gained at the rodeo grounds. Ray also helped oversee improvements to the facility, including restroom upgrades, the transition from wooden to metal bleachers, improved lighting, new fencing along 500 West and expansion of the announcer’s stand.

Born in 1944 in American Fork and raised on a farm in Lindon, Ray grew up playing in fields, swimming in the Murdock Canal and earning money picking fruit to buy rodeo tickets. His service extended beyond the rodeo. Ray spent 25 years as a Scout leader and served as Lehi’s first Order of the Arrow advisor, mentoring generations of young men in leadership and service.

Kelly Jacklin has her own lifelong connection to horses. Born in Fillmore and raised in Hinckley before moving to Midvale, she returned to competitive riding in 1997 with Arabian horses and has competed at the national level three times.

Ray and Kelly met in South Jordan and married on March 24, 1990. Together, they built a life centered on family, work and horses.

Even today, Ray hasn’t slowed much. At 82, he still operates Custom Farm and Repair, fixing barns, fences and equipment, and remains the area’s only custom hay baler, putting up more than 10,000 bales last year alone. The couple continues to spend time riding and showing horses and shares eight children and 27 grandchildren. Looking back, Ray keeps his years of service in perspective. “It was good for the town to have the rodeo grounds,” he said. “A lot of people used it.” This summer, the Jacklins will ride into the arena they helped build, improve and care for over a lifetime.

Tough Enough to Wear Pink? Each year at the Saturday night performance of the Lehi Round-Up we are proud to participate in Wrangler’s “Tough Enough to Wear Pink” campaign. We encourage participants and spectators to wear pink to show support for Breast Cancer Awareness. Any donations recieved are given to the American Fork Cancer Center and are used to help those battling this disease. Wigs for women who otherwise might not have been able to have them, blankets for patients while receiving treatments, and the list goes on. Please join us in donating to this wonderful cause.
